SJD-2

Atto! Architecture and Interiors recently renovated a London townhouse using SJD-2 wire mesh pattern. Textures and finishes abound within the space striking contrasts of both old and new. Complete with a rock climbing wall, this modern London home has everything you need. Banker Wire SJD-2 "irregular" mesh pattern with an antique plated finish was chosen to achieve an aged look so that there would be a striking and purposeful contrast between old and new.

Nothing says texture like Banker Wire's SJD-2 woven wire mesh pattern. This texture can be enhanced when adding an antique plated finish called "Old English". This finish highlights the high sections of the mesh with a bright brass color while the lower areas of the mesh remain darkened with an oxide.
